Environmental policy

At TAFALLA IRON FOUNDRY S. COOP., we are fully aware that our industrial activity has an impact on the environment. We identify the environmental aspects that cause this impact and take responsibility for managing them sustainably. Our commitment is to make our operations compatible with environmental protection, in full compliance with current legislation, the internal commitments we have established, and international sustainability standards.

We assume the following commitments:

- Air quality: reduce and control atmospheric emissions.
- Water: optimize consumption, ensure quality, and promote reuse.
- Responsible chemical management: seek more sustainable alternative substances.
- Soil quality: prevent pollution and promote good practices.
- Noise: control and reduce acoustic emissions.
- Sustainable resource use and energy efficiency: ensure the responsible use of raw materials, improve energy efficiency, and apply continuous improvement practices in manufacturing processes.
- Waste and circular economy: minimize waste generation at the source, promote reuse and recycling, and implement processes that foster a circular economy.
- Biodiversity and land use: protect biodiversity and prevent deforestation or ecosystem degradation.
- Climate change: measure and control greenhouse gas emissions, advancing toward decarbonization.

In addition, we periodically establish measurable environmental objectives, monitored through verifiable indicators, and allocate the necessary resources to achieve them.

Management considers this Policy as the driving force for implementing, maintaining, and improving the environmental management system, guiding our decisions toward continuous improvement and the construction of a more responsible and sustainable future.

Recognizing the importance that information about the environmental protection measures adopted at TAFALLA IRON FOUNDRY, S. COOP. may have for third parties, we commit to making our Environmental Policy available to employees and interested parties, and to establishing communication channels and information tools that foster involvement and collective effort to achieve the organization's commitments and objectives.

Similarly, we promote good environmental practices among our suppliers and contractors and encourage their progressive alignment with our principles, integrating sustainability criteria into validation and monitoring processes.
